Our School Blog...

Even though it has been sunny, it has been cold, but that has not stopped us having fun whilst we learn. Obviously, the highlight has been ending the week with World Book Day and it has been brilliant to see so many children and staff dressed up in character costumes.

Miss Moore is currently working upon our Reading for Pleasure project and, as part of that, she is helping staff to be more knowledgeable about children's texts, reading aloud and improving the school's reading environments. Don't forget that reading for pleasure can be non-fiction texts, including magazines and child friendly newspapers (a growing market) and your local library will keep stocks of these available, free of charge.

Have a great weekend

IMPORTANT INFORMATION AND REMINDERS

- Monday 6th March

There has been a change to the previously published menu for this day. The updated options will now be steak pasty, cheese & onion pasty or jacket potato. If you had already ordered for 6th March, you will need to re-order as ParentPay have cancelled all existing orders.

- Please call 01726 64322 to report absence

If calling outside of office hours, please leave a message giving clear details of your child's name/class and a brief reason for their absence.

- School lunches

Please ensure you book your child's school lunch. Unfortunately, we are still seeing a large number of un-booked meals. This is utilising valuable admin time and could also result in your child not receiving their preferred choice of meal as the kitchen cater to order.

Dates for your diary

Dear God,
Thank you for the subject of RE and the fact that we can learn more about you, We can also learn about what is important to others. Help us to have courage in scary situations, knowing that you are there when we need you
Amen

World Book Day 2023

Book Fair

On Monday 13th March, we'll see the return of the book fair!

Children (Y1-Y6) will be able to view the books during the day on Friday 10th March, and can complete a wish list to take home from which adults can order from.

On Monday 13th, parents are welcomed into the school hall (from 3.15pm), where the books will be on display and can be ordered via a QR code, for later delivery.

Please note - we are a cashless school, so you will not be able to buy books using cash and will not be able to take books home on the day.
