Our school blog

Last week we held our final Local Governing Body meeting for the academic year and for one governor it was their last ever meeting.

Simon Hill has been a member of the Governing Body for over 9 years and has been the chair for the majority of that time. Being a Governor is not just attending the six meetings per year; it involves a commitment and dedication to the children of the school and having an oversight for the benefit of all stakeholders. The education landscape has changed dramatically in the 9 years since Simon first started and he has been part of a journey and helped to steer the school to the safe and happy place where it currently is.

I pass on our thanks from all the staff and pupils, past and present, that Simon has supported and worked tirelessly for and I, personally, gratefully thank him for 'stepping up' to do the role for no other reward than to be a part of improving BB and securing a joyful place for children to learn.

I am also grateful to Penny Hermes who was voted in as Simon's replacement as Chair and we all look forward to working with her and continuing to benefit from her many years experience working within education.

As we approach the final newsletter of the term and the academic year, it is time to get ready to say goodbye to some of our colleagues. Firstly, thank you to Mr Connolly who, with support from Mr Scott, completed his final student teaching placement with us and now has a summer to prepare for his first teaching post in Wiltshire. We are sure that he has a long and successful career ahead of him.

After almost two years at BB, where she was first employed as temporary teacher to work alongside Mr Hobbs, Miss Easlick has secured herself a permanent teaching post at St Dennis Primary School and we wish her good luck and thanks from us all.

Finally, we will be saying goodbye to Miss Mullen who has done a brilliant job standing in for Mrs Prince and Miss Burr in our reception classes. Our congratulations and good wishes go to her in her new teaching job at Probus Primary School.

Have a lovely weekend.

Mr Gynn
