Our school blog

This week we have had a small focus upon '50 Things to do at BB'. Some children have used this week to build dens, ride bikes and play board games. We are looking forward to ticking off some more from that list next half term, including spending a night away from home and performing to an audience. If you would like to see the full list, it is available on our school website.

As there will be no newsletter next week due to the end of the half term, we would like to take this opportunity to say goodbye to Miss Taylor in Peacocks class who will be leaving us in the half term break. She will be missed by all the pupils and her working colleagues. Badger, Whatsit and Wiggler (the school guinea pigs) will miss her too of course!

Enjoy this weekend's sunshine if you can!

Mr Gynn

A polite reminder...

Please be mindful of your parking when in streets surrounding the school. We regularly receive complaints from concerned neighbours regarding the safety of residents and for our children when accessing parked cars, many of which are parked on double yellow lines.

From 12th June, there will be essential works starting on gas services throughout the Boldventure estate - this will mean there will be less on road parking available, so please allow extra time to find an alternative place to park.

Many thanks for your support with this.

This week's achievers

Well done to the children below for following our BB Rules for Life. This week, we are celebrating our achievements in writing

Little Doves

Chloe

For writing an imaginative and creative poem about Space. You used amazing adjectives to describe the Moon

Little Fish

Eli

For your improvements in your handwriting. You have tried so hard and we are really proud of you

Little Lambs

George

For working really hard to improve your handwriting and writing a great mood poem

Peacocks

Augustas

For using the rules of direct speech correctly in your fantastic Robin Hood story

Pelicans

Rozina

For excellent use of subordinating-conjunctions

Phoenix

Scarlett

For your incredible entry to the Creative Writing Competition!

Angels

Ethan F

For working hard to develop and use a lot of techniques to add suspense to your writing! It's been lovely to read

Faith

Lilly

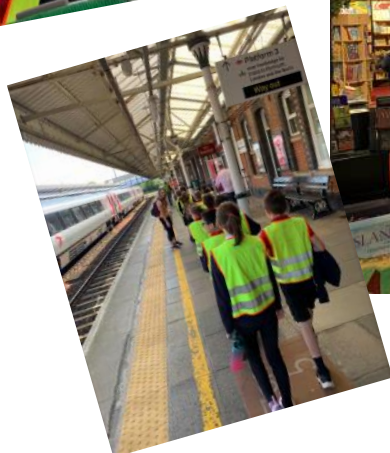

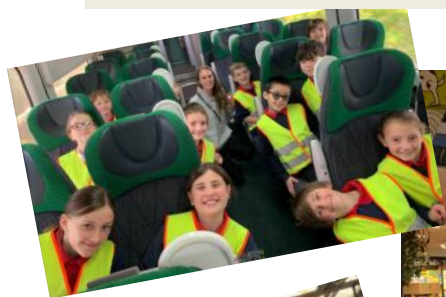

For producing a brilliant creative piece of narrative writing about mountain climbing

Hope

Elizah

For writing a fantastic suspense narrative - you used lots of suspense techniques to good effect, well done!

A trip to Waterstones to buy books for our library!

This week's achievers...

This week, we learnt about and celebrated our school vision of forgiveness

Little Doves

Rory

For showing forgiveness towards your friends when they accidentally hurt you

Peacocks

Benji

You are always mature enough to apologise when you have done wrong and to forgive others, even if they've upset you

Angels

Ethan M

For being able to recognise your wrongs, and apologising to your peers without prompting. It shows how much you genuinely care!

Little Fish

Emily

For your great understanding of the importance of forgiveness, and your thoughtful contributions about forgiveness

Pelicans

Kaiser

For being quick to forgive children in the class and moving on

Faith

Isaac C, Nathan and Alanna

For teaching a fantastic code lesson and for forgiving Mr Connolly and Mr Scott for their rogue behaviour

Little Lambs

Alby

For always showing forgiveness if someone upsets you

Phoenix

Rosie

For showing forgiveness to a class mate when they made a mistake

Hope

Freya

For learning to deal with situations and being more forgiving

Dear God,
Thank you for teaching us about forgiveness. Help us to forgive others and to show kindness.
Amen
