

Wuffles, Puddles and Sunshine

Your activity book to help when someone has died.

Diana Crossley illustrated by Kate Sheppard

Please do not walk off with our display books!

Thank you.

Hi, this book was written to help you because someone important in your family has died. It can be hard to understand all the things you think and feel when something like this happens. This book will give you some ideas to help you understand what is happening.

Inside you will find lots of helpful activities; some are about the person who has died and some activities are just for fun! Even though someone has died it is still ok to have fun!

Bee will tell you what to do.

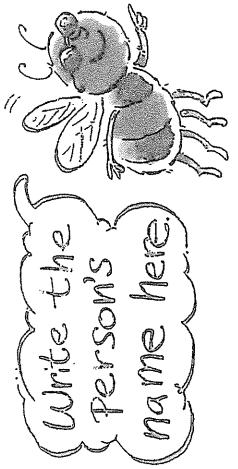

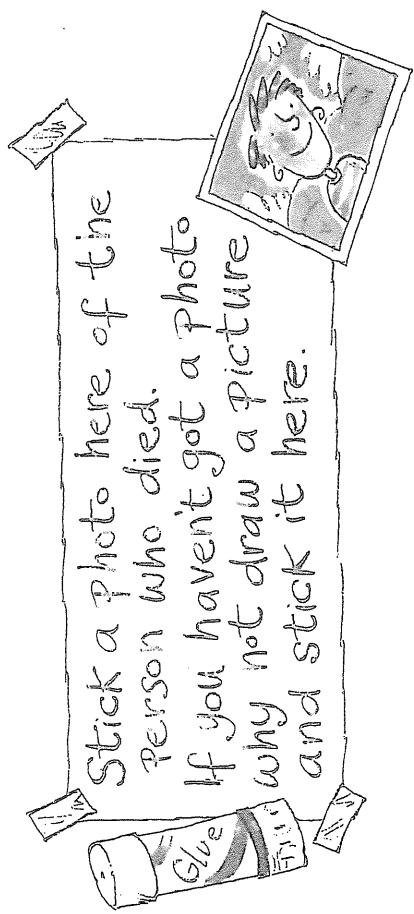

Before you start have a good look through this book. Don't feel you have to do the book in the order it is written - you might want to do some bits before others. Ask someone to help you complete the book. First ask them to read the last page as it will tell them how to help you best.

When someone has died things can be very difficult. At times it feels like life is full of MUPPLES and PUPPLES, as well as SUNSHINE moments when you can remember happier times.

I do hope you enjoy it. Fill this book in any way you like. It is yours to keep.

Grown-ups go to the back page.

I Want to Remember

This is Me

fill this in.

My name is ...

My height is ...

I am ... years old

My eyes are ...

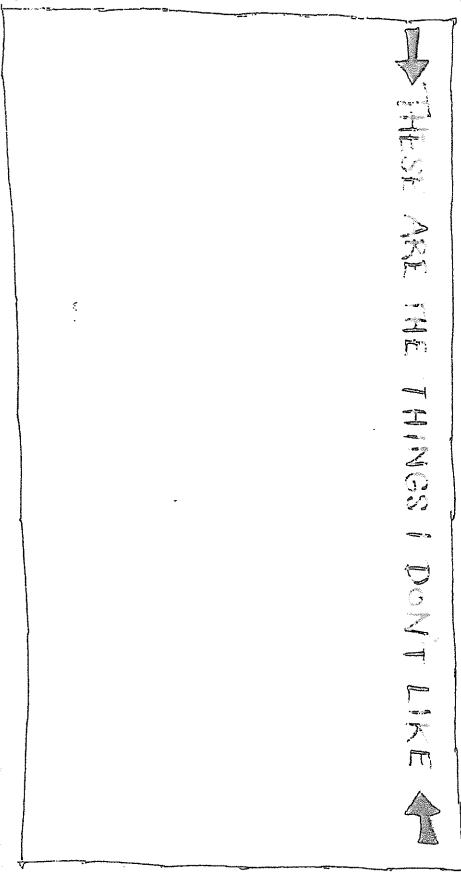

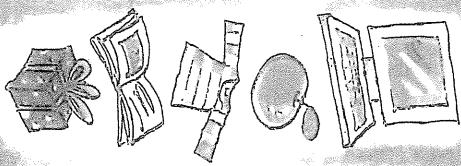

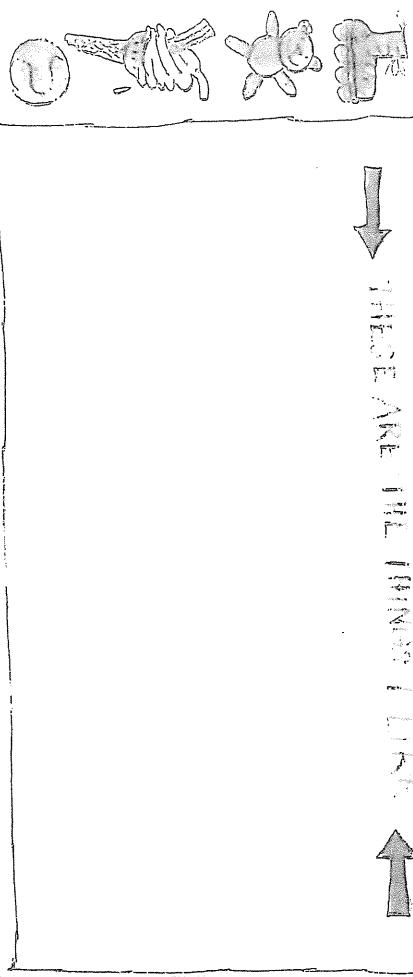

My favourite colour is ...

My favourite animal is ...

My favourite clothes are ...

This is a picture of me.

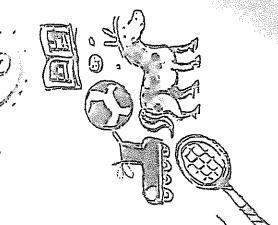

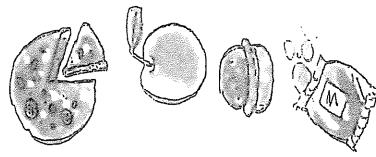

→ THESE ARE THE THINGS I LIKE →

A vertical banner with the title "A Typical Day in my Life" in large, stylized letters. The banner is decorated with small illustrations of buildings, a car, and a book.

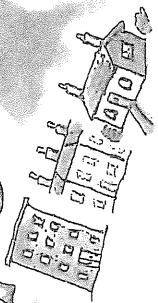

(Write down some things to describe what your life is like.)

eat

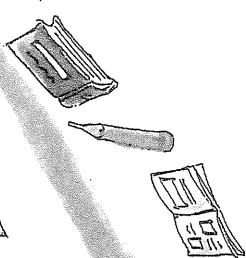

Kilmacree

۱۰۷ 卷之三

My School

My friends

My Family

Draw a picture of your family and answer the questions below.

The noisiest person in my family is...

The messiest person in my family is...

The fastest runner in my family is...

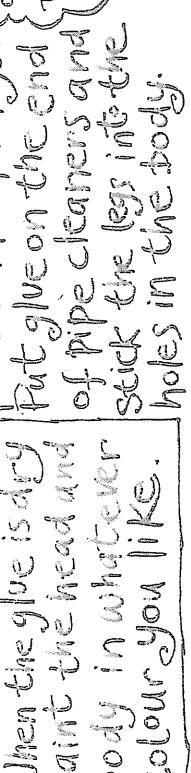

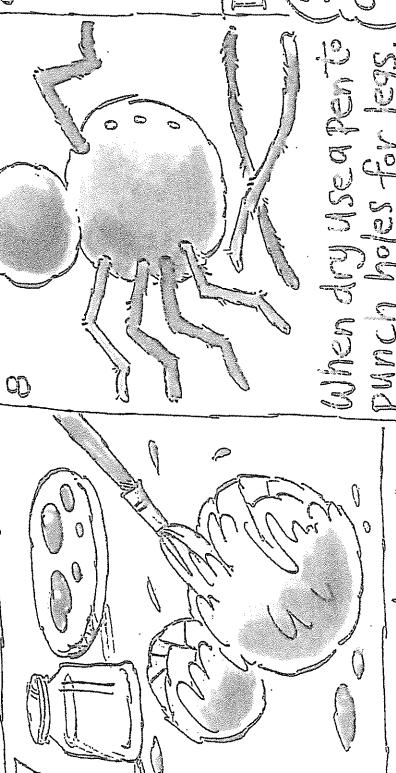

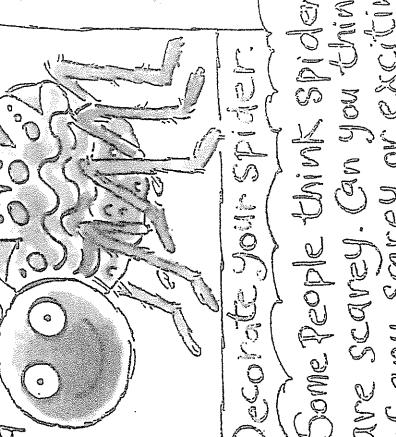

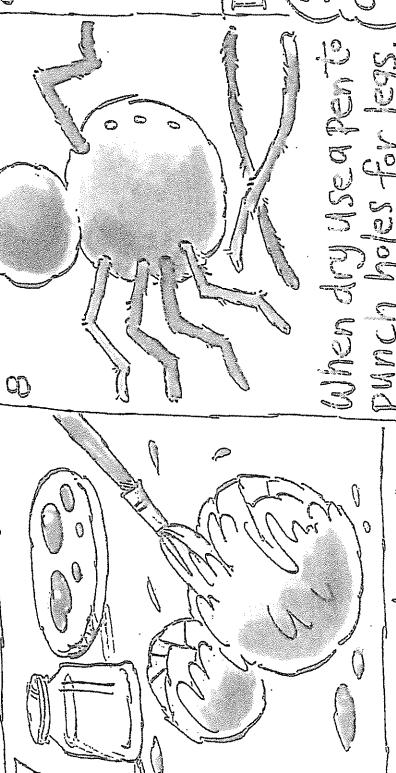

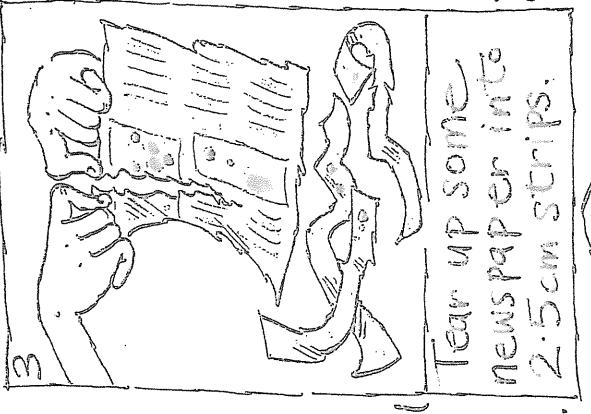

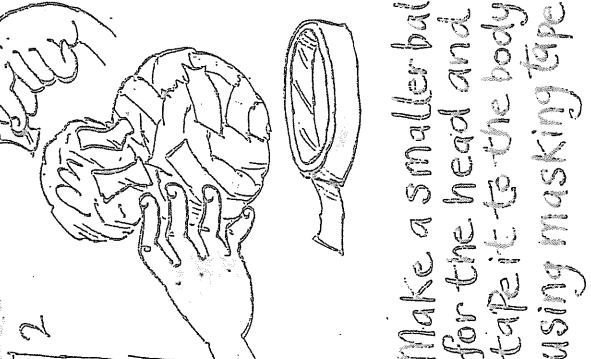

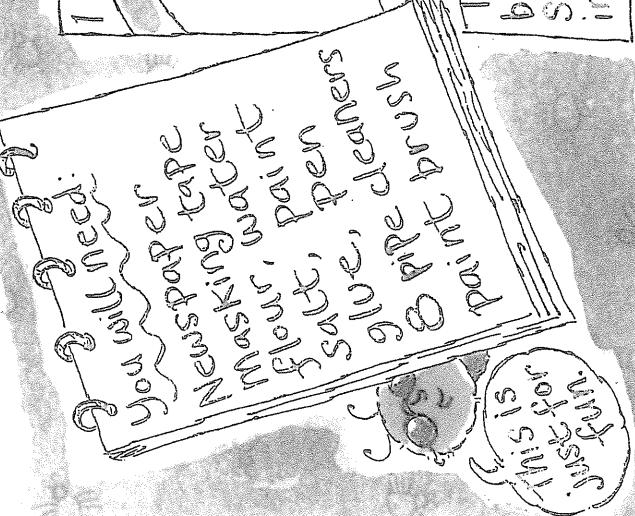

The smallest person in my family is...

The naughtiest person in my family is...

The funniest person in my family is...

How to make a Papier-mâché Spider

Activity
page

About the Person Who Died

I have many questions to ask you...

See if you can fill in the answers below and turn the page to see if you're right.

Who died?

What was their name?

When was their birthday?

How old were they when they died?

 What were they good at?

 What did they look like?

 What was their favourite food?

 What was the silliest thing the person ever did?

 What made the person angry?

 If you don't know the answers to some of these questions, ask someone in your family to help you.

How Did They Die?

Write down what you remember or draw a picture that explains how the person died.

How did you find out the person had died? Who told you?

How did you feel?

It is ok to remember the person who died.
You might like to light a candle to remember them. Always make sure you do this with a grown-up.
Lighting a candle to remember someone in your family who has died can sometimes make you feel sad.
It is ok to cry when you feel sad.

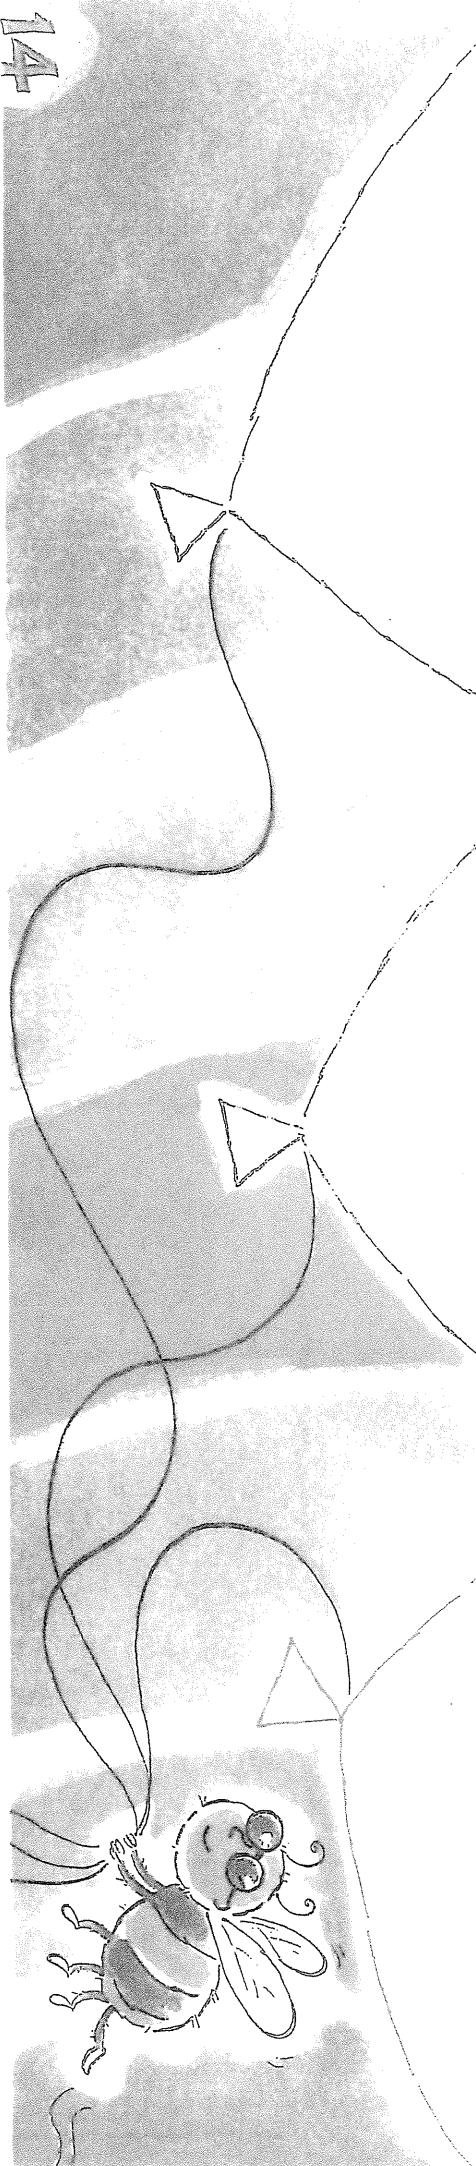

What Can You Remember About The Person Who Died?

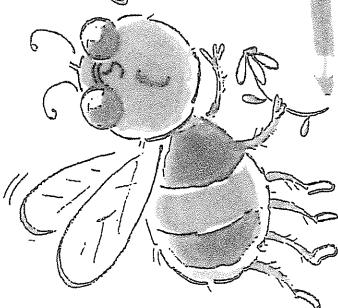

What things did you do together?

Like or Not like?

What things don't you like remembering?

The Funeral

When someone dies
we have a funeral.
Did you go to the funeral?

Yes

What happened?

No

What do you think happened?

Some people choose to visit the grave,
or go somewhere
special to remember the person.

Where do you go to remember the person who died?

Recipe for Success . . . Biscuit Feeling Faces

Activity Page

You will need:

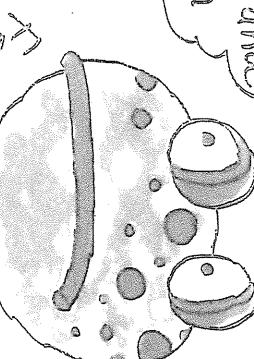

Chocolate biscuits

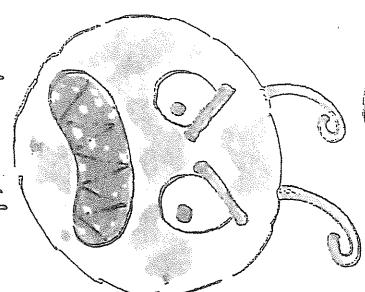

How to make your feeling faces.

Mix some icing sugar with a little water to make a thick glue.

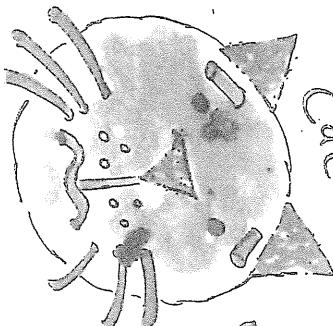

Use the icing sugar 'glue' to stick sweets and cake decorations on to the biscuits. You can make...

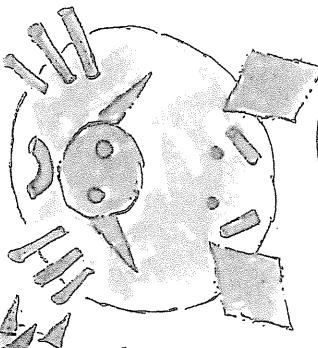

Cold-up frog

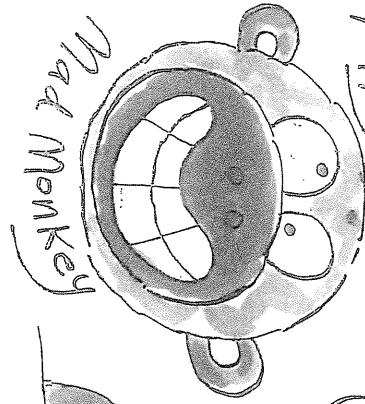

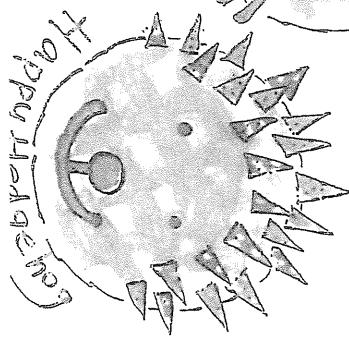

Angry Ant

Confused Cat

Worried Warthog

Mad Monkey

Can you remember all the different feelings you had since they died? You can make different faces for all the different feelings you have.

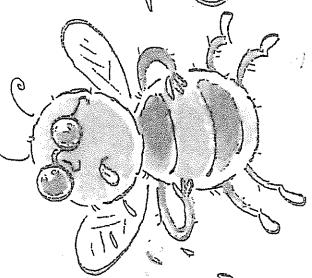

Everything Goes Wrong!

It's not fair!

Everything has changed!

Nothing is easy

Everything goes wrong!

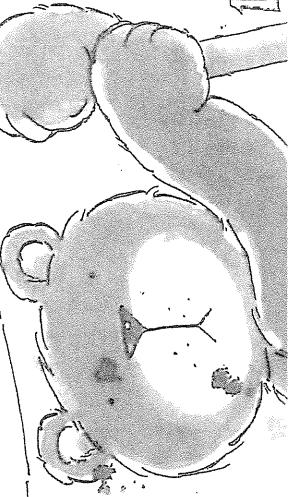

What things have gone wrong for you since the person died?

What

When things change it can seem that nothing you do will ever be right again.

When you feel like this you have to find ways of looking after Feelings Can Be Explosive!

(When someone dies you may have lots of different feelings inside you.)

MIXED-UP

SPADB-ANGER

WORRIED

SCARED & GUILTY

People have lots of different feelings when someone dies. Talking to others sometimes helps. Especially if someone has died in their family too.

Make a

You will need:
A piece of card
Paper
Glue Sticky tape

- 4 When it's dry paint your volcano.

I am scared that ...

I am angry about ...

I get confused when ...

I feel lonely when ...

Leeings Volcano For Yourself &

Textline
page

Use lots of glue and sticky tape.

3. Start to build up your volcano by sticking the paper balls onto the card.

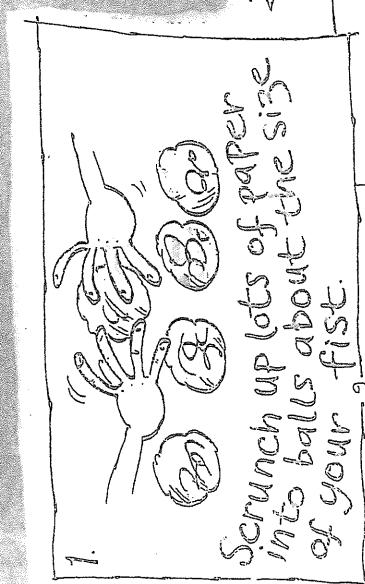

Cut out the spirals and stick them onto your volcano.

2. Get a big piece of

When you have lots of spirals complete each of the sentences below onto each spiral.

Scrunch up lots of paper into balls about the size of your fist.

need to be some explosive feelings *

I am worried because...

I feel sad because . . .

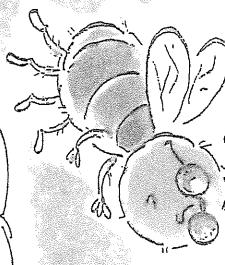

I feel excited about . . .

I feel guilty because ...

I Miss Them

When someone in your family dies there may be lots of times you miss them and the things you used to do together.

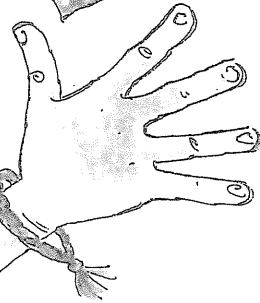

What things do you miss about the person? When do you wish they could still be here?

Write a list or draw pictures

What things might happen to you in the future when you might miss the person who died?

It is normal to miss someone who has died.

Who Is There For Me?

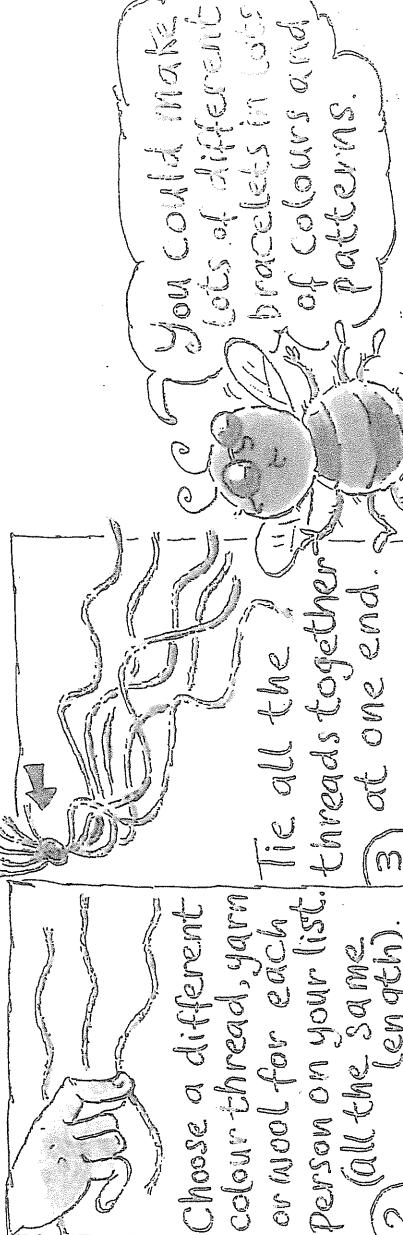

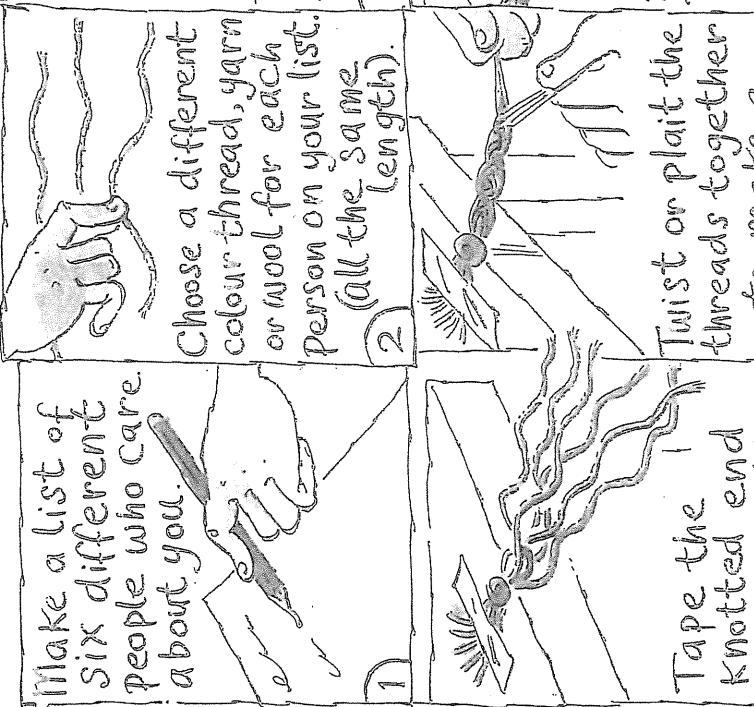

When somebody dies you can feel very lonely. Sometimes it feels like there aren't any people who care, or that there are not enough people to talk to. There are people in your family, friends, at school or clubs, who do care. It can be a good idea to remind yourself who these people are by making your own friendship bracelet.

Follow these instructions to make a fabulous friendship bracelet.

People who care about me...

- 1
- 2
- 3
- 4
- 5
- 6

You could make lots of different bracelets in lots of colours and patterns.

It is ok to miss the person who died but other people care about you too...

Ask someone to help you tie the bracelet.

Twist or plait the threads together to make a

Activity Page

Make Your Own First Aid Kit

What kind of things would you find in a real first aid kit? Make a list.

You can make models of these things out of paper, plasticine, clay or fine sand put them into a box.

Now make a list of things that might help you if you have a bad day.

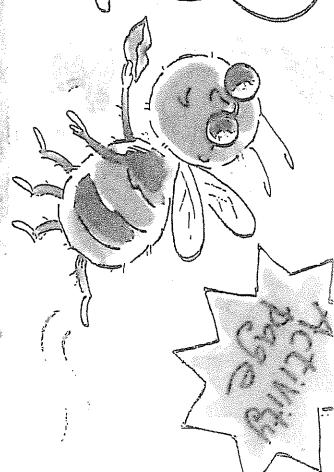

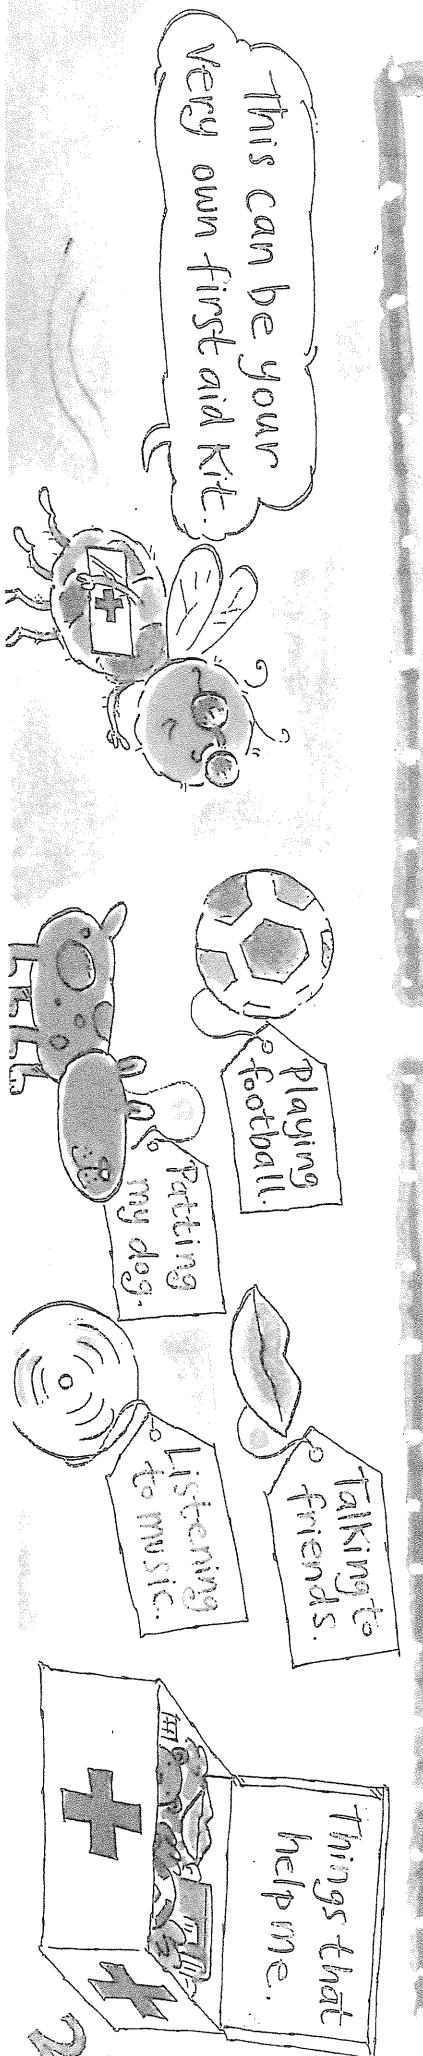

This can be your very own first aid kit.

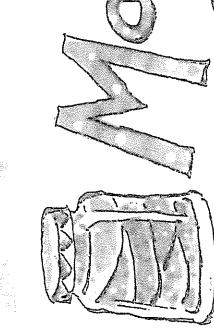

Playing football.

Petting my dog.

Listening to music.

Things that help me.

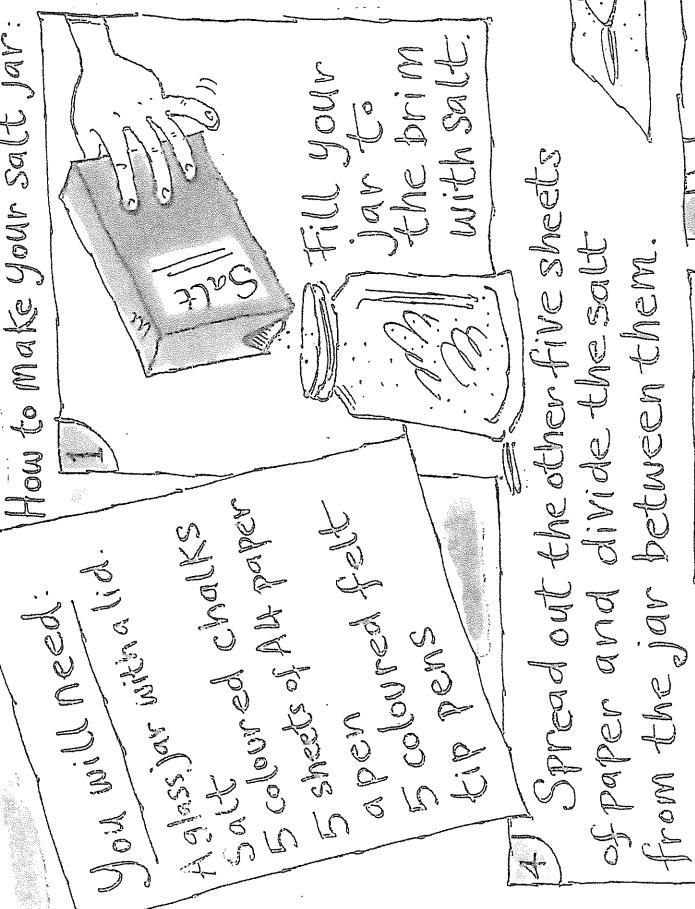

Make Your Own Jar of Memories

How to make your salt jar:

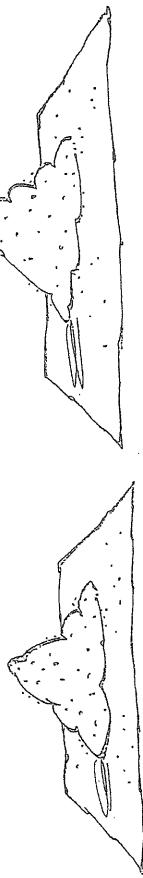

You will need:
A glass jar with a lid.
Salt

Coloured chalks
Coloured Art paper
5 sheets of Art paper 5 sheets of a pen
5 coloured pens
Tip pens

Fill your jar to the brim with salt.

4 Spread out the other five sheets of paper and divide the salt from the jar between them.

5 To colour the salt take a chalk and rub it backwards and forwards in the salt.
The salt will begin to take on the colour of the chalk.
The harder you rub the brighter the coloured salt will

On one piece of paper write down five things you remember about the person who died.
These could be things you know they liked, something they enjoyed doing, perhaps somewhere you went together, or what you remember about them as a person.

6 Carefully pick up a piece of paper and pour the coloured salt into the jar one at a time. You can put as much of each colour in as you want.

7 When all the colours have been added hold the jar and tap it gently on a work surface to settle the salt.
Do NOT shake the jar unless you want all the colours
mixed up.

8 Fill in any remaining space with plain salt - right to the very top. This will prevent

3) Choose a different colour to represent each memory and put a dot of colour next to each memory.

You could draw a picture of your jar of memories here; write down what each colour stands for.

Secure the lid firmly.

My jar of memories for

Make a Salt Dough Bear

This is just for fun.

You will need: 500g plain flour • 250g salt.
8fl oz water • paint • varnish.

To make the dough...

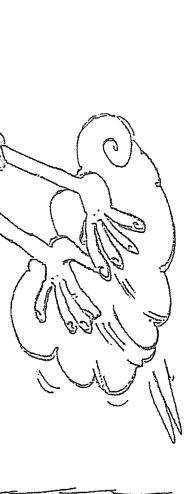

Mix flour and salt in a bowl.

Add half the water and stir.

Keep adding water bit by bit. Until the dough is firm but not crumbly.

Knead the dough for ten minutes.

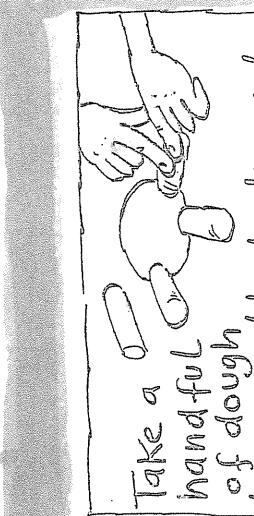

Mark the eyes, nose and mouth with a pencil.

To make a dough bear...

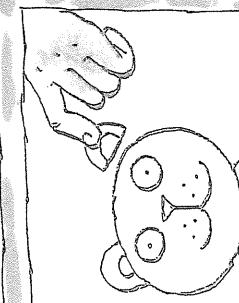

Roll out four bits of dough for the arms and legs.

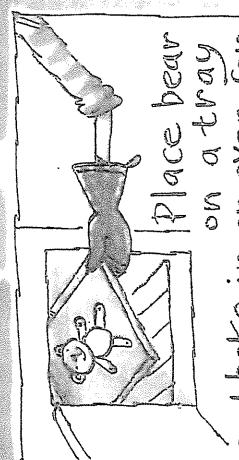

Take a handful of dough to make the body and flatten it a bit. Then add the arms and legs.

Make a head using a small piece of dough and attach it to the body.

Make some ears and attach them

Place bear on a tray and bake in an oven for one hour at 145c, 290f, or Gas mark 1.5

You could stick a magnet on the back of the bear. So you can put Paint your bear, then varnish it. You can make lots of other things

Important Dates

After someone dies you can still remember them, for as long as you want to.

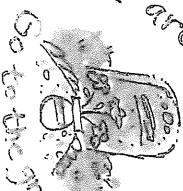

Which dates will you want to remember the person who has died?

Date

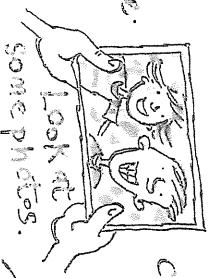

Why is it special?

- You could make a calendar or diary to write these dates in so you remember them.
- You can also ask other people in your family if there are any other special dates. Put these dates in your diary or calendar too.
- On these days you might like to do something special to remember the person who died.

here are some ideas

Go to the grave

Look at some photos.

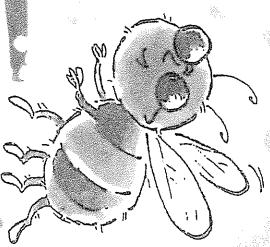

Go to a place the person liked.
Light a candle.

Other things

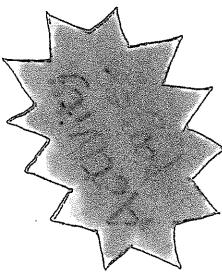

These dates could be days like Christmas, or birthdays, or days when you always went on holiday.

Have the person's favourite food for tea.

I can do some . . .

Tremendous Tulips

Sometimes it's hard to think about the future without the person who died. Life will always be different now they have died. There will be times when you are sad, but it's still ok to have good times too.

I wish I could tell you...
I'm older is...
One thing I want to do when

I'm older is...
One time in the future when I might miss you...

One time in the future when I might miss you...

Write three messages in the boxes below and then copy them onto three pieces of paper.

- Get a terracotta plant pot and decorate it. You can do this with paints or stick shells or small stones onto it with glue.
- Put some small stones in the bottom of the pot for drainage.
- Fold up the messages and put them in the pot.
- Fill the pot over half way with soil or compost.
- Plant the tulip bulbs.
- Water the tulip bulbs regularly.

- Wait for them to grow!
- After a year, they will names safe again after a

Fantastic Photo Frame

Looking at photos can help you remember the person who died.

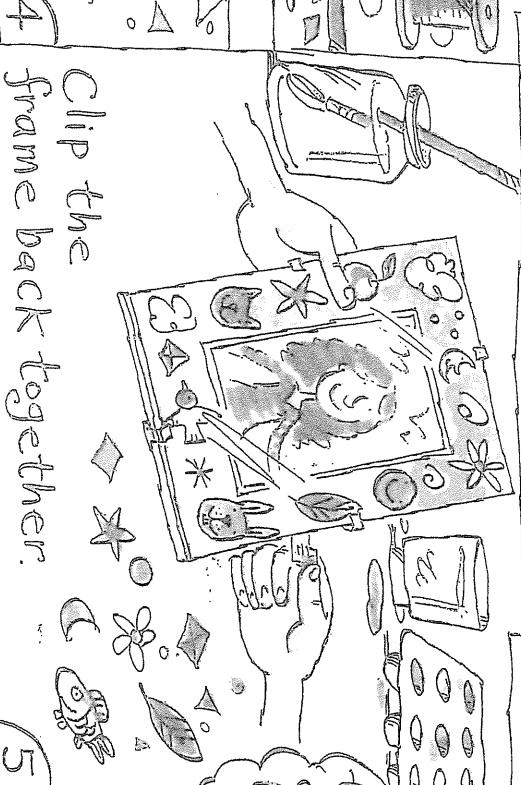

You will need:
A clip frame.
A piece of paper.
Glue. Pens.
Felt pens. Stickers.
Scissors. Scissors.
Favourite photo of the person who died.

clips

- Take the clips off the clip frame and put them aside to use later.

Cut out a piece of coloured paper the size of the frame as a background to your photo.

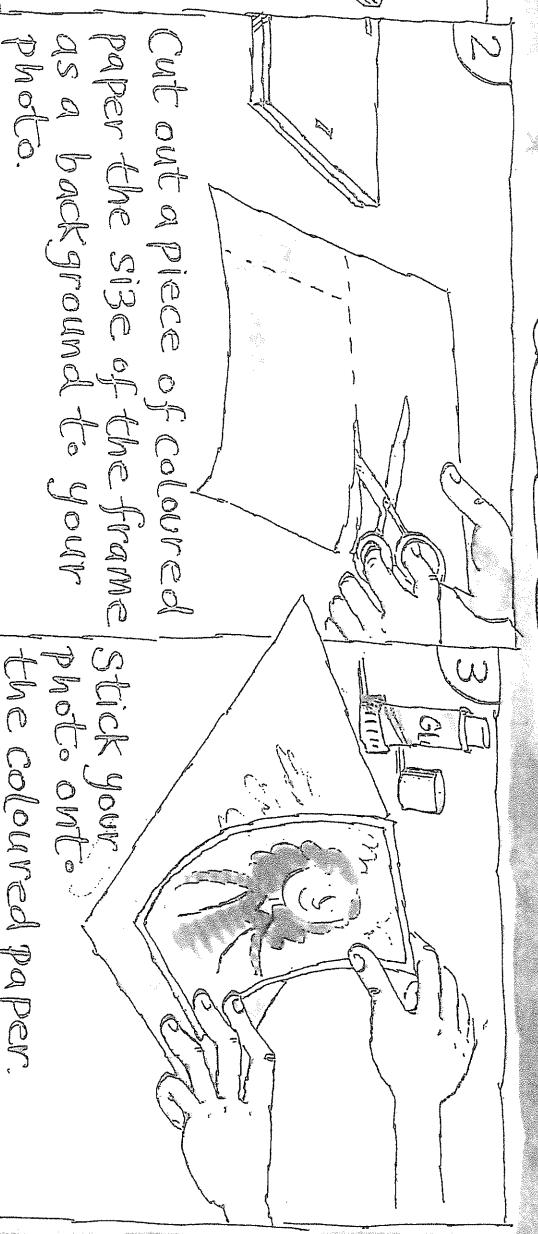

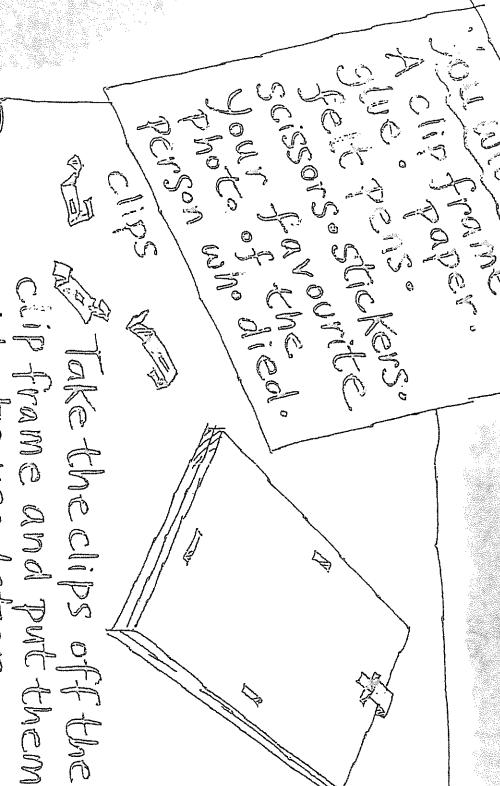

Stick your photo onto the coloured paper.

Decorate round the sides of your photo with stickers or pictures or words.

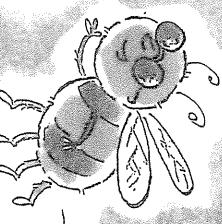

- Clip the frame back together.

5

Sometimes it is nice to look at photographs of the person who died. Where will you keep your frame?

Action Page

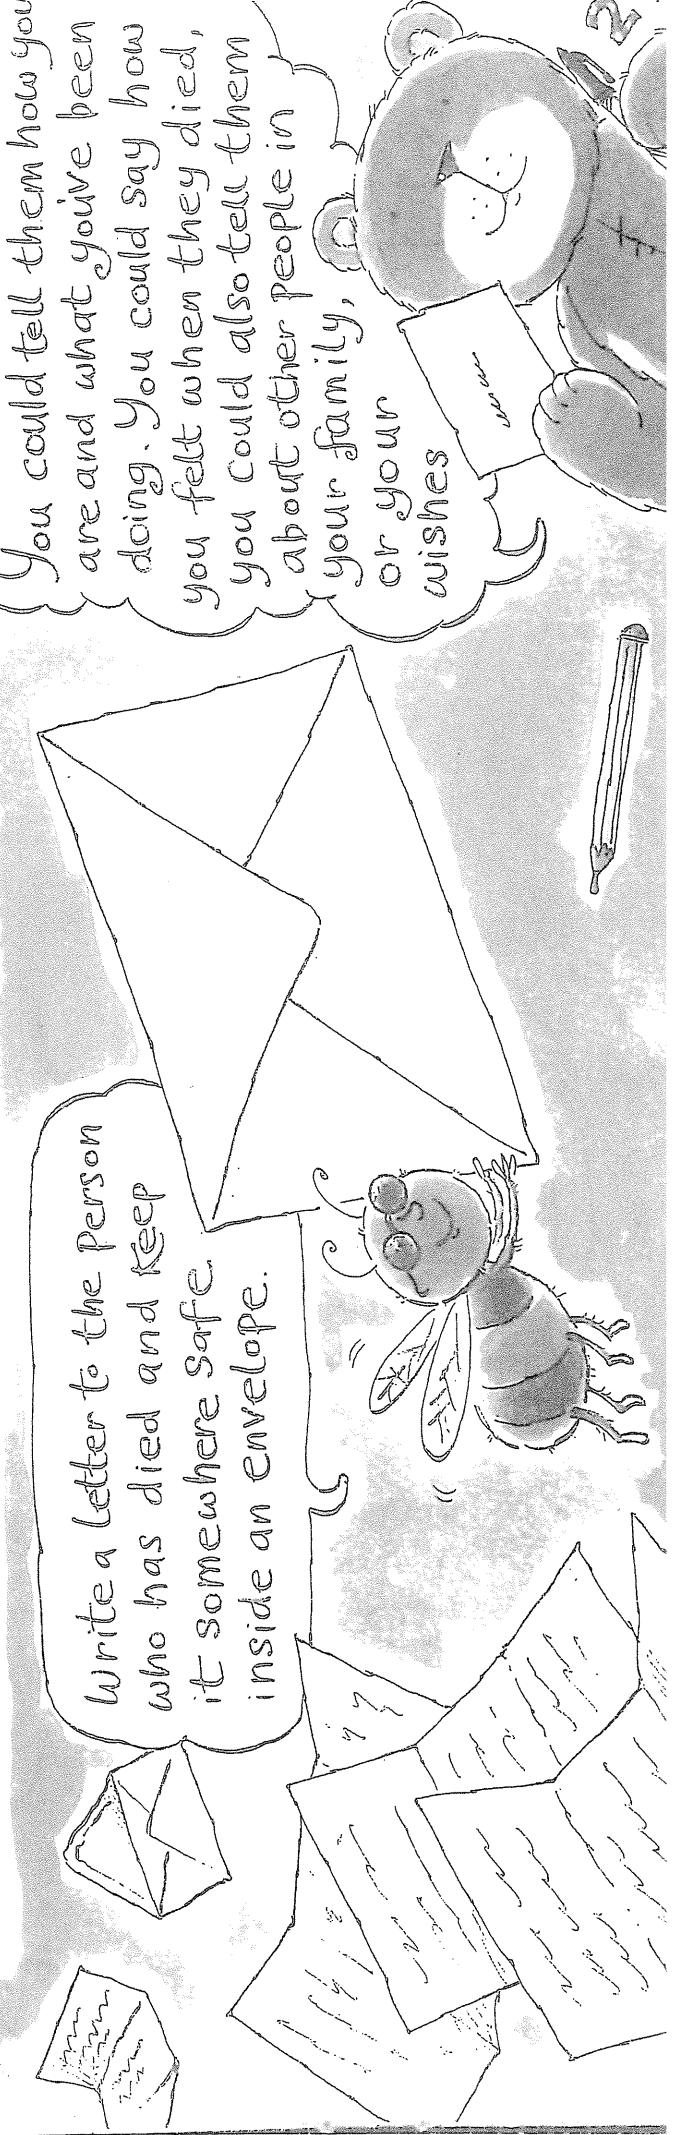

Saying Hello Again

Sometimes people might tell you not to think about the person who died. They think you should only think about the future. Maybe you have to do both....think about the person who has died and still try to enjoy your life without them. This isn't always easy. If you could send a letter to the person who died what would you tell them?

Write a letter to the person who has died and keep it somewhere safe inside an envelope.

You could tell them how you are and what you've been doing. You could say how you felt when they died, you could also tell them about other people in your family, or your wishes.

Five More Minutes

minutes,

If the person who died could come back for just five minutes, what would you tell them?

Come back just for five

If you could tell you...
I would tell you...

You could write a message on some paper and attach it to a helium balloon, and let the balloon go.

Write a message on the tag.

We hope you have enjoyed this book. You may want to show it to other people, or look at it yourself from time to time.

Goodbye!

And now it's time for you to say goodbye.

Goodbye

You can keep this book in a box which can be your Memory Box. There may be other things I want to put in the box than remind you of the person who died. You might want to share your box with special friends.
Goodbye!

This is the person who helped me.

This is a picture of me... and ... this is the person who helped me.

This book was completed by...

With the help of...

Today's date is...

And these are some thoughts about the book or...

